GARRAHAN'S STRAIN-EASY BLANCHING CELERY

Easy Blanching is a green celery. My strain grows from 20 to 24 inches tall, and is very uniform in size. It has a wealth of rich nutty flavored hearts and inside stems. All the stems of the entire stalk are thick, brittle, and of exquisite flavor.

As an early celery, when using paper or boards, it blanches in 10 days to 2 weeks with a golden yellow heart. It's market value is doubled because of it's easy blanching characteristic, giving it that rich, attractive, golden yellow color, so desirable and necessary, long before it is possible to produce it on other green celeries.

As a late celery, if properly stored, it will keep well into the winter.

GARRAHAN'S STRAIN-EARLY JERSEY WAKEFIELD CABBAGE

My strain of Early Jersey Wakefield cabbage is as early as the Early Wakefield, but forms heads as large as the Charleston. However, size has not been sacrificed for earliness. The great advantage of this strain is that the crop matures early and very uniformly, resulting that the bulk of the crop is generally marketed when prices are high, and allowing ample time for some other crop.
